

The a la carte proposal is a waste of time and would be a travesty. If viewers are not interested in seeing Ministry programs, they can very easily change the channel. If there is someone out there searching for truth and " happen " across a ministry station there lives could be changed. Even if they don't like what they see, they can change the channel. Why are so many people afraid of what these stations offer ?? I enjoy these stations. I help support these stations. They spend a lot of money to be on the air. I don't want to have to pay to see it also. There are too many greed hongers in the world as it is. Remember, " The love of money is the root of all evil " Thanks for you rtime and concern in this matter.
